its worst thing upon Europe conditions even more terrible than those wrought by the war itself.

"Nothing, I am led to believe stands in the way of the ratification of the treaty except doubt as to the meaning of the covenant of the League of Nations, and I must frankly say that I am unable to understand why such doubts should be entertained. You will recall that when I had the pleasure of a conference with your committee and with the committee of the house of representatives on foreign affairs at the White House in March last, the questions now most frequently asked about the League of Nations, were all canvassed, with a view to their immediate clarification.

With regard to domestic questions Article 16 of the covenant expressly provides that, in case of any dispute arising between members of the league the matter involved is claimed by one of the parties and is found by the council to arise out of a matter which by international law is solely within the domestic jurisdiction of that party, the council shall so report, and shall make no recommendations as to its settlement." The United States was by no means the only government interested in the question of the provision, and there is no doubt in the mind of any authoritative student of international law that such matters as immigration, tariffs, and naturalization are incontestably domestic questions with which no international body could deal without express authority by the consent of the nation proposing to withdraw; and I must say that it did not seem to me worth while to propose that the article be made more explicit because I knew that the United States would never itself propose to withdraw from the league if its consent was not entirely clear as to the fulfillment of all its international obligations. It has never failed to fulfill them and never will.

Article X is in no respect of doubtful meaning when read in the light of the covenant as a whole. The council of the league can only "advise upon" the means by which the obligations of that great article are to be given effect. Unless the United States is a party to the policy or action in question, her own affirmative vote in the council is necessary before any advice can be given for a unanimous vote of the council is required. If she is a party, the trouble is hers anyhow. And the unanimous vote of the council is only advice in any case. Each government is free to reject it if it pleases. Nothing could have been made more clear to the conference than the right of our congress under our constitution to exercise its judgment in all matters of peace and war. No attempt was made to question or limit that right. The United States will, indeed, undertake under Article 10 to "refrain" and "serve against external aggression" territorial integrity and existing political independence of all members of the league," and that engagement constitutes a very grave and solemn moral obligation. But it is a moral, not a legal obligation, and leaves our congress absolutely free to put its own interpretation upon it in all cases that call for action. It is binding in conscience only, not in law.

Article 10 seems to me to constitute the very backbone of the whole covenant. Without it the league would be hardly more than an influential debating society.

It has several times been suggested, in public debate and in private conference, that interpretations of the sense in which the United States accepts the engagements of the covenant should be embodied in the instrument of ratification. There can be no reasonable objection to such interpretations accompanying the act of ratification provided they do not form a part of the formal ratification itself. Most of the interpretations which have been suggested to me embody what seems to me the plain meaning of the instrument itself. But if such interpretations should constitute a part of the formal resolution of ratification, long delays would be the inevitable consequence, in as much as all the many governments concerned would have to accept in effect the language of the senate as the language of the treaty before ratification would be complete.

"The assent of the German assembly at Weimar would have to be obtained, among the rest, and I must frankly say that I could only with the greatest reluctance approach that assembly for permission to read the treaty as we understand it and as those who framed it quite certainly understood it. If the United States were to qualify the document in any way, moreover, I am content from what I know of the many conferences and debates which accom-

MEXICAN BANDITS

They were overtaken by a band of armed bandits, Lieutenant Peterson said, and a crowd of people from a little town. They continued on their forced journey until Friday night when the bandits compelled the aviators to write messages demanding ransom and telling of the death threat.

The leader of the bandits, he said, had worked on a railroad in Kansas and lost a hand and foot in an accident there.

The messages were sent to the border by messengers Sunday. Peterson immediately sent a message to his father at Hutchinson, Minnesota, saying: "Feeling fine. Had wonderful experience."

Davis also sent a similar message to his parents at Strathmore, California.

Captain Matlack returned with Davis at 2 o'clock this morning, both men riding the captain's horse. According to the agreement, Captain Matlack made the journey into the Mexican desert unaccompanied. He was to pay over $7,500 for the release of one aviator and then the remainder when the second aviator was released.

Captain Matlack said the two aviators landed in Mexico, contradicting the story of Lieutenant Peterson. He said the aviators were of the opinion that they had landed in the United States until they reached the border early this morning. The aviators, the captain said, had become confused while in the air and had mistaken the Conchos river for the Rio Grande. Instead of landing near Candalaria, as they thought, they had landed at a point near Llaneros, Chihuahua, more than 40 miles up the Conchos river where they abandoned their wrecked airplane after stripping it of machine guns and vital parts which might make it of use to the Mexicans.

Thinking they were on the Rio Grande, they started down the stream in an effort to locate Candalaria and report their accident to military headquarters. They landed at 12:30 Sunday afternoon and were picked up Wednesday morning by Jesus Llaneros and a band of five other Mexicans. They were taken into the mountains, but thought they were approaching Valentine, Texas. They were told that 60 men belonged to the band while in reality the aviators saw only 20 men at the ranch where they were held.

Captain Matlack said the bandits were well mounted.

The Americans tried once to escape but were threatened with death and did not renew their attempt.

Various plans for obtaining the ransom money were discussed by the bandits. One was for the delivery of the money by Americans in the middle of the Rio Grande. Another was for the aviators to be taken 100 yards up the river and the money taken an equal distance down the river and both left at the same time. Finally it was agreed that an American army officer should be sent from the American side upon signals from the bandits by means of flares. At the same time Llaneros was to start from the Mexican side with the Americans. They were to meet and exchange the ransom money.

Captain Matlack's ruse by which he saved $7,500 was contrived on the spur of the moment after he had escorted Peterson across the border.

I just decided there was no use in paying those Mexicans that other $7,500 after I had Davis, so I told him to jump on behind me on my horse. I spurred him hard and we made a wild dash for the border and made it. They called for us to halt, but I said 'go to h—' and crossed."

Lieutenant Peterson crossed the border to the American territory 1:15 a. m. and Captain Matlack brought back Davis 45 minutes later.

An Error of the Mind.

The Vedanta religion of India has as the basis of its belief the doctrine that matter does not exist. A Vedanta teacher, says Stanwood Cobb in his book, "The Essential Mysticism," was once instructing his pupils in the midst of a jungle. There suddenly crashed through the bushes a mad elephant—the most dangerous of tropic beasts. The pupils, disregarding their philosopher, took to the trees. When the animal had passed they found their guru descending unabashed from a stout sapling tree. "Why," asked one heretical youth, "did you climb a tree, if, according to your teaching, matter has no existence?" To this smart inquiry, worthy to adorn the impudent ranks of American youths, he answered calmly: "There was no elephant. There was no tree. I did not climb up a tree."

Paradise.

There is nothing that is nearer to you than heaven. Paradise and hell, into which of them are you inclined, and to which of them you tend to walk, to that in this lifetime you are most near. You are between both; and there is a birth between each of them. You stand in this world between both the gates, and you have both the births in you. God beckons to you in one gate, and calls you; the devil beckons you in the other gate and calls you; with whom you go, with him you enter in. The devil has in his hand power, honor, pleasure and worldly joy. On the contrary, God has in his hand crosses, persecution, misery, poverty and sorrow; but in the root of these is a fire; in the fire there is light, and in the light the virtue, and in the virtue the paradise.—Jacob Boehme.

Constipation Results When Hot Weather Stops Exercise

WHEN the system has become accustomed to a certain daily routine of exercise and food, health is quick to suffer if that routine is interfered with. The bowels are first to notice the change.

Different water is enough to constipate. Changes of food when traveling, much sitting by those accustomed to long walks will do it. It is especially true that when elderly people change their routine they quickly become constipated. Yet elderly people should be particularly careful to keep their bowels open, especially during the hot months.

A better remedy for the purpose cannot be found on a druggist's shelf than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin which trains the stomach muscles to do their work naturally so that medicine can be dispensed with. Only a small dose is needed, and unlike harsh physics and cathartics, it acts gently and without griping.

A bottle of Syrup Pepsin can be bought at any drug store for 50c and $1, the latter the family size, or a free trial bottle will be sent on receipt of your address to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 480 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

COUNCIL VOTES TO BUILD MAUSOLEUM

Contract Is Awarded After Conference of Council Members During Monday Night's Session.

Council last night voted to grant the right to erect a mausoleum in Cedar Hill cemetery to a Zanesville firm, there being one other contestant representing the Licking County Mausoleum company. The building must be of Vermont granite and the city is to benefit by being awarded five free crypts, possibly to be used as the resting place for prominent persons to be named by the members of council.

The finance committee reported that the $23,000 worth of street improvement bonds had been rejected by the sinking fund trustees, the sinking fund commissioners of the city's school district and the industrial commission of Ohio.

The committee also reported that $7,500 worth of electric light bonds had been sold to Silverman Huxley company of Cincinnati, in accordance with its bid of $41.25 and accrued interest.

A protest of 12 property owners was presented protesting against the construction of a sewer in Allen street.

The following ordinances were passed under a suspension of the rules:

By Kestman to proceed with the improvement of Eastern avenue by curbing and paving.

By Riggs and Knauber to proceed with paving of Central avenue.

MAKE THIS TEST
If you are not well or strong you owe it to yourself to make the following test. See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next, take two five gram tablets of ordinary Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see how much you have gained. Numbers of nervous, run down people, who were ailing all the while, have most astonishingly increased their strength and endurance in two weeks' time in many instances.

Manufacturers Note: Nuxated Iron which is prepared and recommended by Dr. Williams is not a secret remedy, but one which is well known to drugists everywhere. Unlike the old or inorganic iron products it is easily assimilated and does not injure the stomach. The manufacturers guarantee successful and entirely satisfactory results to every purchaser or they will refund your money. It is dispensed by Wm. A. Why We Love Cream Soups

ALL my family—Father and the children, too—love my cream soups. Tomato, potato, pea—no matter what it is, it tastes good. And it satisfies them almost better than anything else, for less money.

The Secret? I use Every Day Milk.

I found out that one bright tin of Every Day Milk had in it all the cream, all the butter-fat, all the nourishment, of over a quart of rich milk. You see, most of the water has been taken out, making it richer and creamier—nothing has been added. No wonder my soups are good.

And besides, I don't have to worry about ice man or milk man. I save money. I buy no more cream, for Every Day takes its place in coffee and on cereals.

Be independent of the ice man and the milk man. Every day use Every Day—the safe and pure milk.

Their Medicine Chest For 20 Years

IT is characteristic of folks after they pass the allotted "three score years and ten," to look back over the days that are gone and thoughtfully live them over.

I find myself, at seventy-one, frequently drifting back a quarter of a century, when I see myself in the little drug store owned at Bolivar, Mo., making and selling a vegetable compound to my friends and customers—what was then known only as Dr. Lewis' Medicine for Stomach, Liver and Bowel Complaints.

For many years while I was perfecting my formula, I studied and investigated the laxative and cathartic on the market and became convinced that their main fault was not that they did not act on the bowels, but that their action was too violent and drastic, and upset the system of the user, which was due to the fact that they were not thorough enough in their action, some simply acting on the upper or small intestine, while others would act only on the lower or large intestine, and that their almost inevitable produced a habit requiring augmented doses.

I believed that a preparation to produce the best effect must first tone the liver, then act on the stomach and entire alimentary system. If this was accomplished, the medicine would produce a mild, but thorough elimination of the waste without the usual sickening sensations, and make the user feel better at once.

After experimenting with hundreds of different compounds, but last perfected the formula that is now known as Nutter's Biscuits, which I truly believe are faster

Wounds From Rusty Nails Dangerous

Serious results, through blood poisoning, often occur from scratches, cuts or wounds from rusty nails or other metal. Don't run this danger. Protect yourself by having a bottle of Housatonia always at hand.

Dean McKillip, well-known farmer of Clark Co., Ohio, says: "I stepped on a rusty nail which extended halfway through my foot. I applied Housatonia to the wound and banded the foot. In a short time the pain got easier. After five days I did not limp and the wound healed nicely. People who use Housatonia for such injuries do not need to fear blood poisoning."

He had a suitcase filled with fishing tackle and a cooking outfit, and admitted that he ran away from his home at Mansfield after taking $28 of his father's money, 4 cents of which remained in his possession. He stated that he had been discharged from the industrial school at Lancaster in June. He is being held for the Mansfield probation officer.

Non-support Charge.

Morris Davis of Johns street was brought into juvenile court today on a charge of non-support. He has a wife and three children and it is charged that he has not been contributing to their support.

Wife Charges Neglect.

Florence A. Farr has filed a petition in probate court against Ralph Farr. They were married in Rochester, Pa. July 29, 1914. The petition alleges gross neglect and failure to provide for the wife and children and is accompanied by the Swartz-Hutchinson company, where, his wife alleges, he earns $200 per month. She asks that she be awarded reasonable alimony out of his earnings and that the company be enjoined from paying him any money which may be due him.

Inspecting Bridges.

The county commissioners are out in day inspecting a number of bridges which are badly in need of repair. The recent heavy rains have caused a great deal of damage, especially to approaches and these are being taken care of as fast as possible.

NINE BOYS HELD ON CHARGES OF THEFT

Nine boys were in juvenile court today, five charged with entering chicken coops of neighbors and disposing of 15 fowls to commission houses. They told the purveyor that their mother sent them down to dispose of a surplus supply. The boys range in years from 12 to 14, and reside in Dovers and Oakwood avenues and Washington street. Four other boys were charged with entering the Edinger confectionery store in East Main street and pilfering candy and chewing gum. They also tried to enter the Frye & Hansberger stand near the intersection depot. Probation Officer John Dwyer secured a confession from one of the boys.

Telephone Service.

NEWARK A GOOD TOWN TO LIVE IN.

Newark is a good town to live in. It is centrally located; a very large proportion of the people live in homes they own. Church and school facilities are ample.

But among the potent reasons is that Newark has the best telephone service in Ohio. We say that it is best without boasting but with knowledge. Among telephone men this fact is recognized; telephone men come from every part of the United States to Newark to see why this is so.

Did you ever try to imagine what Newark would be with everything exactly as it is now except that there was a slipshod, bankrupt telephone company trying to serve the people here? The answer, of course, is that everything else couldn't be just as it is with the kind of service such a company would render.

The influence of bad telephone service on the lives and happiness of the people is almost as bad as that of the saloon.

The influence of good telephone service is just the reverse; it makes for happiness and good will and cheerfulness and ease of performance.

Good telephone service is the life blood of the town and it is embodiment of the good will of the town.

This company is proud of its position in the telephone world but more than that it is proud of its standing in its own community.

HEISEYS WALLOP
B. & O. CHAMPS

Glass Men Get Sweet Revenge For Loss of Twilight League Title: In First of New Series.

Fifteen hundred spectators watched the Heisey team get even with the B. & O. Twilight league title-holders last night at White field, when the glassmen shutout the railroaders by a score of 7 to 0. The game is one of a series of three which are being played for the benefit of the Elks' Salvation Army fund.

A home run by Bowie in the first inning, which scored three men, was the first hard wallop handed by the railroaders during the league race, had much to do with the result.

The next game will be played Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. Last night's score:
Heiseys 4 0 0 0 0 0—7 11 1
B. & O. 0 0 0 0 0 0—0 2 2

Postage Then and Now.

Persons who thought the raise in the price of letter postage from two to three cents a "big jump," at the time of our entrance into the war, should consider the colonial and early government rates of postage. On March 3, just 72 years ago, the United States issued its first postage stamps, just seven years after England had adopted them.

These first American stamps were of the 5 and 10 cent denominations, and naturally enough bore the likeness of Washington and Franklin. Previous to this time postage was paid in cash, usually by the receiver of the letter. The earliest rates were from 8 to 25 cents.

Poisonous, but Valuable.

Before America went into the war there were discussions with reference to the cultivation and sale of medicinal herbs; afterward, the interest paled before the necessity of raising vegetables "to beat the knaiser." So many weeds are sold to be made into medicine that it would be difficult to name them all. Even the jimson, short for Jamestown, called also devil's apple and several other names besides stramonium, has its value. We remember how as children we were warned in a loud, stern voice: "Don't touch that weed, it's poison!" It is still as poisonous as it ever was, but the leaves sell from 2 to 5 cents a pound, and the seeds also are used as medicine.

OLD "BLUE LAW" HAS STUCK

All Efforts to Amend Famous Statute of Pennsylvania Have Thus Far Been Unavailing.

Once more an effort is to be made to amend the most famous of all laws on the statute books of Pennsylvania—the venerable blue law, enacted April 22, 1794.

It is said that at every regular session of the legislature during the 125 years since that awful crimp was put in Sunday conviviality, an attempt has been made to repeal it entirely or to amend it. Girard writes in the Philadelphia Press:

But that old law entitled "An act for the prevention of vice and immorality and for other purposes," has survived all the assaults of those who would destroy it.

A century and a quarter of world revolution, of tumbling thrones, of dazzling inventions and economic and social changes finds that statute of 1794 as unbreakable and rigid as the eternal laws of the Medes and Persians. Those old legislation bricks of 1794 regarded it as being vastly more wicked to shoot a rabbit on Sunday than to drink a hot toddy.

One offender was tagged with a fine of $25, the other a shilling and a half.

It was impossible under a strict enforcement of that law to operate a canal boat, a railroad train, a street railway car, a cab or sell any commodity from a loaf of bread to a package of chewing gum.

Every seventh day the state of Pennsylvania was expected to freeze up completely like a good bird dog when he sees a snail.

Europe Likes American Milk.

European people have learned to like American dairy products. Exports of condensed milk to Europe rose from 16,000,000 pounds in 1914 to 530,000,000 pounds in 1918, and there were notable increases in exports of other dairy products. Much of this may be due to abnormal war demands, but the United States department of agriculture believes that there is both an opportunity and a tendency to expand in this direction over peacetime requirements. A normal increase in dairying in this country, the department thinks, is fully justified, provided there is the necessary increase in feed crops.

TWO CHARGE WIVES WITH UNFAITHFULNESS

Three divorce and alimony petitions have been filed in the court of common pleas. Ada Lockard has filed a petition against Thomas Lockard in which she states that a separation exists and asks that she be granted permanent alimony. They were recently married, the date being January 26, 1919. She alleges that after her marriage Lockard brought into the family two children by a former marriage, a boy and a girl, aged 12 and 13, and that her husband permitted the boy to frequently assault her, swear at her and call her bad names; that in July Lockard permitted the boy to assault her and break her finger and that she refused to have the children go elsewhere to live and ordered the plaintiff to leave home.

A Karen Wolf charges that her wife, Elizabeth Wolf, has been untrue to him and he names the correspondent.
They were married April 1, 1916, and he charges that she continually nagged him and told him that she hated him and that it was none of his business if she did care for some one else. He also states that she remains away until midnight and frequent dance halls and has been guilty of misconduct. He asks for a divorce.

Charging that his wife went bugging with a well known man and that she left her home to live with him in a house which he owns in Morris-street, John W. Webb has brought action for divorce against Mary Webb.
They were married September 28, 1917.
He states that she was guilty of misconduct on numerous occasions and names the correspondent. He also states that after hitting him over the head with a chair on August 14 last she abandoned him.

CLEAN UP POISON SOAKED KIDNEYS ADVISES DR. CAREY

Thousands Die Every Year Because They Allow Poisonous Deposits to Accumulate in Kidneys.

Don't flush your kidneys with harsh makeshifts says Dr. Carey, they are too frail and delicately constructed to treat them rough.

For 40 years I have been prescribing Marshroot for kidney and bladder sickness and now that I have retired from active practice I have made arrangements with leading druggists to dispense this wonderful prescription at a moderate price.

Beware of kidney disease thousands die of it every year. The only way to enjoy the blessings of life and health.

If you have specks floating before the eyes, puffs under eyes, clammy feet

Marshroot right away.

It has conquered thousands of cases of kidney and bladder diseases and is the medicine you can always depend upon.

most magical balm, first bathing them off with a little warm water and drying.

lighted to find how easy and comfortable

A FORMER SOLDIER JUST FROM FRANCE IS PRAISING DRECO

Sergeant Minor of Newark, O., Says:
"My Back Was Weak, Kidneys Gave Trouble, and Head Pains Constantly
In My Right Side."

ALL GONE NOW

While most of "our boys" returning from France, are in good health, we sometimes see one who is not. The old saying, "what is pie for one, is poison for another," was true of army work and discipline. Such was the case with Sergeant T. J. Minor, 78 Hoover street, Newark, O.

"Upon my return from France, I found my back weak, kidneys out of order and stomach seemed unable to digest my food. As it should be, I had a burn in my right side constantly. I was nervous, slept poorly, and often had dizzy spells. Looking around for a good medicine to put me in shape, I decided on Dreco as so many people around here were praising it. I am glad to report that it has done me a lot of good, for my stomach gives me no more trouble, the pain is gone from my right side, I sleep well, have a good appetite, the dizziness has stopped. I strongly recommend Dreco, for I believe it is a fine medicine."

Dreco is a scientific combination of good old-fashioned roots, herbs, barks and berries. It contains absolutely no mercurial salts, or harmful metallic drugs.
It has been recommended strongly for stomach, kidney, liver, nerve and blood disorders and dizziness. There are hundreds of men and women in this section who are taking with excellent results.

Mr. Powers, the well-known Dreco expert, has headquarters at Evans' Cut-Date Drug Store, to meet the best public and explain the merits of this great remedy. See him today.

AMERICAN STEAMER DAMAGED. Havre, France, Monday, Aug. 18.—Fire which badly damaged the American tank steamer, George G. Henry, and destroyed merchandise on the docks valued at 500,000 francs today, was caused by oil from the tanker catching fire when an unloading pipe broke. The burning oil flooded the pier to which the steamer was moored.

SAY BLACK HANDERS GET ALLIANCE ITALIAN

Alliance, Aug. 19.—Joe Buttero, 44, who, the police say, has been hounded by the "black hand" for 10 years, was murdered this morning while on his way to work. He was shot six times. The attack, police say, is the ninth made on Buttero's life as he survived eight other violent assaults with stilettoes and pistols. Two men shot him today and then made their escape. Policemen and firemen are scouring the city and vicinity for the slayers.

The Art of Dressing The art of home-making is very different from the art of dressmaking. Many women have beautiful clothes and hideous homes. Others dress like frumps and leave one spellbound at the graciousness of their houses. Dressing one's self is a far lesser art than dressing one's home. Dressing one's self is a wholly egotistic amusement, while creating a beautiful atmosphere where others may rest and be happy, shows a developed social consciousness and a brotherhood with the whole spirit.

What Hurts The junior partner was harried. "I shall have to get another typist," he lamented. "Miss Take is continually interrupting my dictation to ask how to spell a word." "Dear, dear!" said the senior partner. "That seems a great waste of time." "It's not that I mind," responded the other. "But it's so bad for discipline to keep on saying 'I don't know!'"
